

Back to School

The summer is drawing to a close, the day light hours are becoming less, and the children are looking downtrodden. It can only mean one thing; back to school is just around the corner. This is the time of year that the words “Back to School shopping” generally mean bad news for both the parents and children. This year however, I have good news for the parents. The State of Tennessee Legislature has decided to follow in the footsteps of many other states and has designated a Tax Free Holiday.

This tax-free holiday will begin at 12:01 AM on Friday August 4th and will last until 11:59 PM on Sunday August 6th. During this time period items such as single item clothing with a price of $100 or less, school supplies with a price of $100 or less and computers with a price of $1500 or less are all exempt from sales tax. YES, That’s right, I said NO SALES TAX. That is an instant savings of 9.25%. In other words that is a savings of up to $138.75 on a $1500 computer system.

So now I urge you to not buy a back to school computer this week or even next week. Keep that cash or credit card in your pocket until August 4th or 5th. The Computer Depot won’t be able to help you save any tax dollars on clothes or school supplies. We do, however, have an excellent supply of new and used computers and laptops that will be tax exempt during this holiday. In addition, we will be offering extra saving and special promotions in celebration of this tax-free weekend.

I urge you now to mark your calendar. The Computer Depot will be open during normal hours on Friday August 4th and will offer special promotional hours of 10am to 5pm on Saturday August 5th. Don’t miss this once a year opportunity to save the sales tax on your new computer or laptop on top of other special offers and promotions.

The Computer Depot has been a Powell fixture for more then 8 years and is located across Clinton Hwy from the Chik-fil-A. We offer only the highest quality computers with the best local tech support and warranty services. I urge you to visit with us before this event so that we can special order any new or used computer for you to pickup during the tax-free weekend. Call Thomas, Roger, or Aaron at 947-0749 or email me a computerdepotonline@att.net for more information.